

After just 68 days, Starmergeddon

++ Prisoners soaked with celebratory bubbly as thieves, drug dealers and violent criminals are freed early ++ One vows he's now a 'life-long Labour voter' ++ Another was greeted by friends in a Lamborghini ++ All on the day Starmer's MPs voted to axe winter fuel cash for 10million pensioners...

9.46AM HMP NOTTINGHAM

Sickening celebrations: Inmates are sprayed with champagne as they walk free from jail under the Government's early release scheme yesterday

WHO VOTED FOR ALL THIS?

KEIR Starmer mugged pensioners and freed muggers yesterday on a day of shame for Labour.

The Prime Minister ordered his MPs to ram through a 'cruel' raid on pensioners while authorising

By Jason Groves
and David Barrett

the early release of hundreds of prisoners – including thieves, drug dealers and killers.

In sickening scenes yesterday morning, freed inmates celebrated by soaking themselves in champagne. One former prisoner was met by friends in a Lamborghini while another boasted that he was now a 'lifelong Labour voter'.

Just hours later, ten million pensioners were stripped of their winter fuel payments as the party forced through the controversial measure in a Commons vote. Critics said Sir Keir's true agenda was now being laid bare – 68 days after he entered No10 with a landslide majority.

Neither policy was mentioned in Labour's election manifesto – with the party even denying it would rob

Turn to Page 2