As the princess reveals her chemotherapy has finished in intimate family video, her powerful message of hope...

Kate: Out of darkness can come light, so let that light shine bright

A shoulder to rely on: The Prince and Princess of Wales in a heartwarming three-minute video released by the couple yesterday

THE Princess of Wales has finished her course of chemotherapy, she revealed yesterday.

Catherine said she planned to undertake a 'light programme' of engagements over the coming months, but warned it will be a slow return to full public duties.

In a deeply personal video, the princess said her nine-month cancer fight had been a 'scary and unpredictable' time for her family.

She said the experience had reminded her and Prince William to 'reflect and be grateful for the simple yet important things in life, which so many of us often take for granted. Of simply loving and being loved'. Her voiceover message accompanied a three-minute video showing the couple in Norfolk with their children, Prince George, Princess Charlotte and Prince Louis.
