CORBYN WOULD HAVE BEEN BETTER PM THAN BORIS, KEIR CLAIMS

Starmer's extraordinary answer in TV grilling by voters

JEREMY Corbyn would have made a better prime minister than Boris Johnson, Sir Keir Starmer claimed last night.

The Labour leader was left squirming on live TV as he was grilled over his support for his predecessor, who he twice tried to make PM.

Sir Keir became flustered as he was pressed to say whether he had genuinely believed his claim at the 2019 election that Mr Corbyn would make a 'great prime minister'. By that point, he had served in Mr Corbyn's Shadow Cabinet for four years and urged the public to make him prime minister at two consecutive elections.

But in recent times he has worked hard to distance himself from Mr Corbyn, who campaigned for years to ditch Britain's nuclear deterrent and leave Nato.
