HARRY'S REUNION HOPE IS DASHED

As prince flies into UK, he's forced to admit his father is too busy with 'other priorities'

PRINCE Harry was forced to admit his father was too busy to see him after he flew into the UK yesterday.

After weeks of speculation about a reunion, his spokesman announced stiffly that a meeting

'will not be possible due to His Majesty's full programme'.

Harry tried to put a brave face on the situation, saying he understood his father's position and 'hopes to see him soon'. But the news will have come as a crushing blow to the prince, who told US television in February he hoped Charles's illness could 'reunify' the Royal Family.

His spokesman said: 'In response to the many inquiries and continued speculation on whether or not the duke will meet with his father while in the UK this week, it, unfortunately, will not be possible due to His
