

The REAL reason BBC parted ways with Gary Lineker... and who's in line to replace him

SEE PAGES 10-11

CHURCH IN CRISIS AS WELBY FORCED TO QUIT

++ 'Shamed' Archbishop steps down over abuse scandal ++
He could lose seat in Lords
++ Victims say more senior clergy must go

THE Church was in turmoil last night after the Archbishop of Canterbury resigned in 'shame'. Justin Welby had to step

By Sam Merriman
Social Affairs Correspondent

down over his handling of the Church of England's worst child abuse scandal.

He is the first Archbishop of Canterbury to be forced out of the role after failures meant an abuser was never brought to justice.

Last night survivors warned Mr Welby should not be 'a sacrificial lamb' and that other senior clergy

Turn to Page 4

Kate's carol service will reflect on 'our most difficult times'

SEE PAGE 13

