

DAILY NEWS

NEW YORK'S HOMETOWN NEWSPAPER

Former President Donald Trump and ex-South Carolina Gov. Nikki Haley (r.) are last GOPers in presidential race.

TRUMP LOOKS FOR KO IN N.H.

EX-PREZ COULD WRAP UP GOP NOD IN GRANITE STATE TODAY - SEE PAGES 6-7

AP: GETTY

HE

John Mach, a church security guard whose throat was slashed Sunday in a confrontation with a man who was urinating on a car in front of his E. 14th St. house of worship, told the Daily News about the terrifying knife attack that hit "close to the arteries."

SEE PAGE 5

SLASHED

MY THROAT

Victim of street urination faceoff tells News of his heavenly luck: 'God doesn't want me there so soon'

SHEETAL BANCHARIYA FOR NYDN