RUSSIA LINKED TO FAKE NEWS THAT SPARKED MOSQUE RIOT

Second night of violence after website falsely claimed knifeman was migrant on MI6 watchlist

A RUSSIAN-linked fake news website fuelled lies that sparked violent protests over the Southport stabbings.

A Mail investigation traced the misinformation that spread like wildfire online, leading – 27 hours later – to an attack on a mosque and 53 police officers being injured as they tried to protect it.

There were further ugly scenes last night as flares and glass bottles were thrown near Downing Street when protesters clashed with officers.

The violence has been stirred up
