

TWO COMPELLING MAIL VOICES

I thought I might die after my colon cancer operation

Alexandra Shulman

PAGES 18-19

Night I saw Queen's anger at banquet for Trump

Sarah Vine

PAGE 15

SUPERYACHT HORROR

As divers frantically hunt for survivors who could be trapped in air pockets...

COULD ANYONE STILL BE ALIVE?

From Robert Hardman
in Sicily

EVEN in the dwindling twilight, the divers and patrol boats are still out there off the Sicilian coast as I write, lending the tiniest credence to that slenderest of hopes: might someone, in some miraculous air pocket, still be alive?
It is now two days since the 183ft

British superyacht, the Bayesian, capsized in seconds and sank in 150ft of water in the early hours of Monday.

Six people are missing, including the owner, British tech guru Mike Lynch, and his 18-year-old daughter
Turn to Page 4

MISSING

Undersea search: Mike Lynch and his daughter Hannah, 18

