

I dare not tell my friend why we school mums all loathe her stay-at-home husband

SEE PAGE 34

Daily Mail

dailymail.co.uk

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 2024

£1.10 85p to subscribers

SCAN TO SUBSCRIBE
AND SAVE

KEMI: BRITAIN IS NOT A HOTEL... IT'S OUR HOME

In her first major speech, new Tory leader takes fight to Reform by pledging total overhaul of our 'broken' immigration system

By Jason Groves
Political Editor

KEMI Badenoch last night signalled a tough new Tory approach to immigration as she declared: Britain is not a hotel – it's our home.

Mrs Badenoch said it was time to stop being 'squeamish' about the negative impacts of mass immigration and act to halt it, adding that the UK could not cope with the 'millions' who want to come to this country.

In her first major policy speech as Conservative Party leader, she said immigration levels were 'a world away from where we need to be', and promised a strict cap on arrivals, with only those able to make a 'substantial and clear contribution' to Britain allowed in.

Mrs Badenoch will review Britain's

Turn to Page 4

Supportive: Martin Frizell and Fiona Phillips

This Morning boss quits to help wife Fiona Phillips with dementia battle

SEE PAGE FIVE