

SARAH VINE*Get well soon, Sir.
Your country needs you

PAGE THREE

RICHARD KAY*Will William and Harry finally be reconciled?

PAGES 6-7

ROBERT HARDMAN*He waited so long to be King.
Now this...

PAGES 8-9

KING'S CANCER BOMBSHELL

CHARLES IS SO GRATEFUL THEY CAUGHT IT EARLY

He's 'hugely positive'
about health battle,
as Harry flies in to be with his father

THE King was last night reported to be 'hugely positive' following shock news that he has cancer.

Family and friends were said to be amazed by his determination to carry on with 'business as usual'.

It is understood his condition has been caught very early and the prognosis is good.

Buckingham Palace dramatically revealed that doctors had discovered an unspecified form

By Rebecca English
Royal Editor

of cancer during treatment for a benign prostate condition.

Charles informed close family by phone, including estranged son Harry who will fly back from his home in California to see his father.

It will be the first time the pair have spent any significant time together in more than 18 months. Royal watchers were asking whether it might herald a thaw in relations. Charles, 75,

Turn to Page 2

PICTURED ON SUNDAY

Royal wave: The King and Queen greet well-wishers as they leave church in Sandringham