

Sex! Fashion! Weight-loss jabs! INSPIRE
STARTS
PAGE 27

Daily Mail

dailymail.co.uk

£1.10 85p to subscribers

SCAN TO SUBSCRIBE
AND SAVE

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 2024

Sombre: The Princess of Wales and Charles at the Cenotaph yesterday

As Kate and the King honour Britain's Fallen...

SEE PAGES 4-5

By Martin Beckford
Policy Editor

LABOUR faced an angry backlash last night after a minister admitted a vital boost to the military may not be delivered within five years.

A Treasury minister refused to confirm that the Government will raise defence funding to 2.5 per cent of GDP by the

Daily Mail CAMPAIGN

DON'T LEAVE BRITAIN
DEFENCELESS

end of the current Parliament.

Darren Jones also suggested that spending on the over-stretched Armed Forces may lead to 'trade-offs' in other public services.

His comments came despite Chief of the Defence Staff Admiral Sir Tony Radakin warning that Britain needs to 'strengthen our Armed Forces' in a 'more dangerous world'. Last night former top

Turn to Page 4

WHEN WILL LABOUR GIVE FORCES FUNDS THEY NEED?

Fury of former top brass as Reeves' deputy says vital boost may not even come within five years