

Amid the mounting claims she's innocent, a special 40-minute episode of our acclaimed podcast

THE TRIAL of Lucy Letby

LISTEN NOW ON APPLE OR SPOTIFY

RWANDA'S BACK – BUT IT'S GERMANY PLANNING TO USE IT

And they want to put migrants in facilities Britain paid for

By Jason Groves
Political Editor

LABOUR faced embarrassment last night after Germany proposed sending illegal migrants to facilities in Rwanda paid for by British taxpayers.

Sir Keir Starmer was branded a 'soft touch' on migration after Berlin suggested it could use accommodation abandoned by the new Government to house its own illegal migrants in the African country.

Tory leadership contender Robert Jenrick said the German proposal made the Prime Minister's decision to axe the Rwanda scheme 'look more foolish by the day'.

Downing Street insisted it was right to scrap the plan, describing it as a 'gimmick'.

Home Secretary Yvette Cooper will today meet intelligence chiefs at a summit designed to step up efforts to tackle the people-smuggling gangs. But Germany's migration commissioner Joachim Stamp yesterday called

Evidence: Jeremy Kyle leaves the coroner's court yesterday

Kyle denies humiliating tragic TV guest he told to 'grow a pair'

SEE PAGE 5