As MP launches Commons bid to strip Sussexes' titles, a shock snub from their son's godfather, the Duke of Westminster

NOW HARRY IS EXCLUDED FROM SOCIETY WEDDING OF THE YEAR

ONE of Prince Harry's closest friends has dealt him a devastating snub – by excluding him and his wife Meghan from the society wedding of next year.

The Duke of Westminster – one of Britain's richest men – has invited the King and Queen and the Prince and Princess of Wales to his nuptials, but not the Sussexes.

The pointed omission will be seen as a consequence of the couple's increasingly bitter rift with the rest of the Royal Family, exacerbated by the bitter 'racism' row that flared up again last week. And the snub is all the more humiliating for Harry because the Duke, Hugh Grosvenor, is godfather to his son Archie.

Meanwhile, The Mail on Sunday can reveal that Parliament could consider the 'nuclear option' of stripping Harry and Meghan of their Royal titles under bombshell legislation to be put forward this
