

The snobby whispers at a Cotswolds barbecue that left me in tears

NADINE
Dorries

SEE PAGE 17

Daily Mail

TUESDAY, MAY 21, 2024

dailymail.co.uk

£1.10 85p to subscribers

TAINTED BLOOD SCANDAL

DAY THAT SHAMES THE BRITISH STATE

■ Landmark report blasts 'horrifying' failures that led to more than 3,000 deaths

■ 'Chilling' cover-up hid the truth for over 40 years

■ PM and NHS boss make historic apology to victims

■ But families fear NO ONE will ever have to face justice

THERE are fears that no one will face criminal justice over the tainted blood scandal – despite a scathing report into the tragedy.

Delivering his inquiry's findings yesterday, Sir Brian Langstaff said the 'disaster was no accident' and

By Inderdeep Bains
and Ryan Hooper

should never have happened as he exposed a 'chilling' cover-up by the NHS and successive governments.

He criticised a catalogue of errors which resulted in a 'calamity' and saw more than 30,000 people infected with

Turn to Page 5

Grieving: Debra Dennis, whose husband Barrie was a victim of the infected blood scandal, outside Central Hall in London yesterday