

As she plans to bury Ozzy in the garden, why friends fear for 'very fragile' Sharon

SEE PAGES 20-21

ASYLUM SEEKERS GAMBLING AWAY TAXPAYER CASH

In the past year over 6,000 migrants used government-issued cards loaded with £50 a week at betting shops and casinos...

EXCLUSIVE

By Jason Groves
Political Editor

ASYLUM seekers are using taxpayer handouts to fund their gambling habits.

Pre-paid cards given out to pay for basics including food and clothing are being used in gambling venues such as bookmakers, amusement arcades and even casinos, Home Office data shows.

In the last year, up to 6,537 asylum seekers have used the government-issued cards at least once for gambling.

The shock figures were released under freedom of information laws to the PoliticsHome website. Last night they triggered calls for an

Turn to Page 6

Militant behind doctors' strike compared Brexit to rape

EXCLUSIVE: PAGE 8