Now priority seating on Dubai's public buses

DUBAI
BY ASHFAQ AHMED
Senior Assistant Editor

Dubai's Roads and Transport Authority yesterday announced the introduction of priority seating at the front of all public buses, reserved specifically for senior citizens, pregnant women, and mothers with children. The move is part of the RTA's commitment to create a more inclusive and accessible public transport system.

Safer and more convenient

This initiative also ensures that vulnerable passengers can travel with greater comfort, dignity, and peace of mind, aligning with RTA's wider mission to make public transport safer and more convenient for everyone. Dubai's public bus system operates modern, air-conditioned buses that are equipped with advanced safety and accessibility features to serve all segments of society, including People of Determination.

More entrepreneurs from India, UK aim to shift base to UAE

GULF NATION FIGURES PROMINENTLY IN WHERE BUSINESS OWNERS WANT TO BE

DUBAI

Are you an entrepreneur based in India or the UK? Then chances are that the UAE will have a major role to play in your future operations.

While 5 per cent of business owners from overseas would consider shifting base to the UAE — or move their assets — those from India and the UK show 'particular interest'. That's according to a new report from HSBC, which tracked the sentiments of business chiefs, based in the UAE and outside, on their plans.

Of those looking to move assets to the UAE, 19 per cent in the survey are from India and 9 per cent from the UK. (For Indian business owners, the Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement between UAE and India has been a major factor.)

Also, business owners have also been quick to take the UAE's 9 per cent corporate tax rate in their stride. (Businesses with operations in multiple markets and with revenues of €750 million are taxed at a higher rate in line with Pillar 2 obligations.)

"With a positive business landscape, entrepreneurs in the UAE are less concerned about tax compared to the global average," says the HSBC findings.

Of the entrepreneurs based in the UAE, a super-majority of 95 per cent expect growth in their business wealth.

Post-Covid, more of the world's super-rich and business founders have been making the UAE their permanent address. Family offices and hedge funds too have followed in their wake, with DIFC and ADGM both confirming a higher intake.
