

LIZ JONES: Why at 66 I will never have sex again

SEE
PAGES
33-35

Daily Mail

THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 2025

dailymail.co.uk

£1.20 90p to subscribers

SCAN TO SUBSCRIBE
AND SAVE

£4TRILLION SPENDING REVIEW

A reckless splurge we (and our children) will be paying off for years

By Jason Groves Political Editor

VOTERS were last night braced for swingeing tax rises after Rachel Reeves embarked on an unprecedented spending spree.

In a return to Labour's tax-and-spend approach, the Chancellor set out plans to 'invest' a staggering £4trillion to fund 'the renewal of Britain'.

She said the plans, which include another huge dollop of cash for the NHS, would end the 'destructive' austerity of the last government and boost economic growth.

Labour strategists hope the costly gamble will pay off by cutting hospital waiting lists, improving the creaking infrastructure and pump-priming the economy.

But experts warned the scale of the spending, coupled with the deteriorating public finances, will pave the way for another

ANDREW NEIL

As delusional drivel, this was in a class of its own

SEE PAGE 11

Turn to Page 2