After Kemi and Starmer attacked immigration decision that let Gaza family remain in Britain

TORY ANGER AT JUDGE WHO SAID CRITICISING OUR RULING WAS 'UNACCEPTABLE'

KEMI Badenoch hit back at England's top judge last night as a row broke out over the right to criticise the judiciary.

Lady Chief Justice Carr issued a rare rebuke to both the Tory leader and Prime Minister yesterday after they disagreed with a ruling in an immigration case which allowed a Palestinian family to gain asylum in the UK through the Ukraine refugee scheme.

Baroness Carr faced accusations she was attempting to 'suppress' criticism, while Mrs Badenoch warned her politicians have a right to speak out as 'Parliament is sovereign'.

The Lady Chief Justice accused the party leaders of failing to respect and protect judges.

Baroness Carr said she was 'deeply troubled' by their charge that the immigration judge had made the 'wrong decision'.

The row then escalated as the Bar
