

I feel sorry for whoever wins £5m Omaze dream mansion this week LIZ JONES
SEE PAGE 18

Daily

dailymail.co.uk

Mail

£1.20 90p to subscribers

SCAN TO SUBSCRIBE
AND SAVE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 2025

HORROR IN LIVERPOOL

PARADE DRIVER 'HIGH ON DRUGS'

Suspect is arrested for attempted murder after 'tailgating ambulance' past event's stewards

THE motorist who drove into Liverpool fans during a victory parade was allegedly high on drugs, it was revealed yesterday.

The 53-year-old is said to have tailgated an ambulance racing to a heart attack victim before unleashing horror on the city centre's streets.

He struck fans at up to 30mph near the city's waterfront, which had been closed to traffic.

The man was being questioned last night on suspicion of multiple attempted murders, being unfit to drive through drugs and

By Liz Hull
and Chris Matthews

dangerous driving. Some 50 people, including four children, needed hospital treatment following the carnage at the end of the Premier League champions' open-topped bus celebrations on Monday evening.

Eleven victims were stable and recovering well in hospital last night, but police sources said it was a miracle no one had died.

As Princess Anne visited medics who treated the injured at the Royal Liverpool University Hospital, King Charles sent a message of support to Liverpoolians, saying: 'I know that the strength of community spirit for

Turn to Page 2

Worried about Trump? Don't make me laugh!

SEE PAGES 4 & 5

Speech: King in Canada's Parliament yesterday