

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

DOW JONES | News Corp

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 2025 ~ VOL. CCLXXXVI NO. 98

WSJ.com

★★★★ $5.00

DJIA 46734.61 ▲ 144.20 0.31% NASDAQ 22941.80 ▲ 0.9% STOXX 600 574.43 ▲ 0.4% 10-YR. TREAS. ▼ 10/32, yield 3.988% OIL $61.79 ▲ $3.29 GOLD $4,125.50 ▲ $81.10 EURO $1.1619 YEN 152.59

What's News

Business & Finance

- ◆ Strong earnings are easing investors' anxieties about the U.S. economy's health, helping to lead the market higher. The S&P added 0.6% and is up 1.1% for the week, just shy of a record. B1
- ◆ Intel's turnaround effort gathered momentum as it reported shrinking costs and sales growth in its core product line of PC processors. B1
- ◆ Ford beat Wall Street estimates as Americans bought more of the company's pickup trucks and SUVs than expected in the third quarter. B1
- ◆ Target plans to cut around 1,800 corporate roles as part of an effort to remake its strategy to reverse a period of stagnant sales. B3
- ◆ Home sales rose in September to a seven-month high after buyers seized on declining mortgage rates. A2
- ◆ Electric-vehicle maker Rivian is carrying out a round of layoffs expected to hit more than 600 people, or 4% of its workforce. B2
- ◆ American Airlines narrowed its loss in the third quarter and expects to end the year more profitable than Wall Street forecast. B3
- ◆ Shares in Gucci owner Kering gained more ground after sales at the fashion house beat expectations in the most recent quarter. B3
- ◆ Prada reported a fresh increase in revenue as optimism grows for an upturn in demand for luxury goods. B3
- ◆ T-Mobile logged higher revenue in its latest quarter as it continued to add post-paid wireless phone subscribers at a fast clip. B4

World-Wide

- ◆ Trump pardoned Changpeng Zhao, the convicted founder of the crypto exchange Binance, after months of efforts by Zhao to boost the Trump family's crypto firm. A1
- ◆ The U.S.'s new sanctions hit at the core of Russia's faltering war economy and drew a swift rebuke from Putin, who acknowledged the potential impact on Russia. A1
- ◆ Trump said he is ending trade negotiations with Canada over an ad sponsored by Ontario, which features Ronald Reagan speaking negatively about tariffs. A1
- ◆ More than 30 people, including the Portland Trail Blazers head coach, were charged as part of a sweeping investigation into illegal gambling and match-fixing in the NBA. A1
- ◆ Zhi Dong Zhang, accused of being the most important link between Chinese chemicals and Mexican cartels making fentanyl, was extradited to the U.S. after Cuba turned him over to Mexico. A1
- ◆ Trump has put a hold on plans to send federal agents to San Francisco after talks with the mayor and Silicon Valley business leaders. A3
- ◆ Gov. J.B. Pritzker will establish a commission to document federal immigration enforcement in Illinois. A3
- ◆ The U.S. flew B-1 bombers near Venezuela, stepping up pressure on Maduro. A6
- ◆ Vance rebuked a vote by Israel's parliament to annex parts of the West Bank. A7
- ◆ New York City Mayor Eric Adams endorsed Andrew Cuomo in the mayoral race. A3

CONTENTS		Markets.....	B10
Arts in Review A10-11		Markets Digest....	B6
Business & Finance....	B2	Opinion.....	A13-15
Business News.....	B3	Sports.....	A12
Crossword.....	A11	Technology.....	B4
Heard on Street.....	B10	U.S. News.....	A2-4,6
Mansion.....	M1-14	World News.....	A7-8,16

© 2025 Dow Jones & Company, Inc. All Rights Reserved

Sanctions Strike Russia Lifeline

Putin denounces new U.S. measures, which align U.S.-EU pressure on Moscow

By GEORGI KANTCHEV AND LAURENCE NORMAN

BRUSSELS—The U.S.'s new sanctions hit at the core of Russia's faltering war economy and drew a swift rebuke from President Vladimir Putin, who acknowledged the potential impact on his country.

The Russian leader denounced the sanctions as an "unfriendly act," saying the measures are serious and could have consequences for Russia, though he played down their impact on the well-being of ordinary Russians. "The U.S. administration is damaging Russian-American relations," Putin said Thursday, adding that they had "only just begun to recover." Analysts said the impact of blacklisting Russia's biggest oil producers—Rosneft and Lukoil—will hinge on three things: how well they are enforced, the reaction of major markets in India and China, and whether Moscow can circumvent the measures as it has up to now. The new sanctions bring Washington and Europe into alignment in their pressure on Moscow for the first time since the start of the Trump administration. President Trump's decision to impose sanctions came after the Kremlin rejected Washington's call for a cease-fire along the current front lines, followed by peace talks. The European Union approved on Thursday new sanctions phasing out purchases of Russian liquefied natural gas and targeting 37 foreign companies helping Moscow circumvent sanctions on military goods or the Russian oil trade, including 15 Hong Kong and Chinese companies. The new U.S. sanctions "mark the most material move

Please turn to page A8

◆ Russian oil to get expensive for India and China..... A8

China Party Meets, Its Ranks Thinned by Xi Purges

YES MEN: Chinese President Xi Jinping, center, and other members of the Communist Party's Central Committee at Thursday's plenary meeting. After mass firings, participation at the gathering has dropped to its lowest rate since the late 1970s. A16

NBA Stars Arrested in Gambling Probe

More than 30 people including Portland Trail Blazers head coach Chauncey Billups and Miami Heat guard Terry Rozier were charged on Thursday as part of a sweeping investigation into illegal gambling, rigged poker games, and match-fixing in the NBA.

Federal prosecutors un-

By Jared Diamond, Louise Radnofsky and Robert O'Connell

veiled an indictment against more than two dozen defendants that outlined a nationwide scheme backed by organized crime families to run corrupt poker games and lure in victims by offering them a chance to play alongside figures including Billups, then a former player, and former NBA player and assistant coach Damon Jones. The revelations instantly ranked among the most damaging in the league's history, throwing into question the integrity of its product just six years after the NBA opened its doors to the lucrative legalized gambling industry. What had been U.S. sports' ultimate taboo quickly became part of the business model for major leagues and put an endless menu of bets at the fingertips of most Americans. Now, the fear that athletes

Please turn to page A12

INSIDE

MANSION

Stolen cars, private security and the fight to gate off Miami Beach's richest road. M1

BUSINESS & FINANCE

Hollywood sees a big opportunity in 'microdramas' and their bite-size episodes. B1

Homeowners Seek Prehistoric Lawn Decoration

New Jersey theme park creates frenzy by selling its life-size animatronic dinosaurs

By JAMES FANELLI

For all the people who felt the only thing missing in their lives was a giant animatronic dinosaur, Christmas came early this year. An educational theme park in New Jersey put its collection of prehistoric creatures up for sale on Facebook Marketplace last month at bargain discounts. David Boyle set his sights on the 39-foot Tyrannosaurus rex, priced at $2,700 and advertised as "slightly used well loved!" "You gotta go for the boss," he said. His home in rural North Franklin, Conn., sits along a busy road with farms and farm stands. The dinosaur, he thought, would be a fun spectacle for the community and passersby. "My wife thought it was absolutely the worst idea in the world," he said. Boyle didn't know exactly

Please turn to page A9

Islamic State Rises Again, Filling Void Left by U.S.

Six years after defeat, militants aim for a comeback in Syria

By SUDARSAN RAGHAVAN

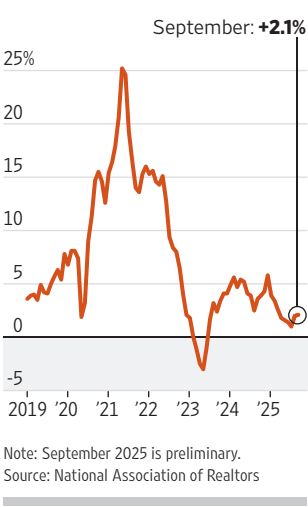

HAJIN, Syria—The two American-backed Kurdish soldiers were riding in a pickup truck past a row of shops when Islamic State militants on motorcycles opened fire with AK-47s, killing them both. A shop owner near the site said it was the first Islamic State attack on the road. "We are all afraid," he said, visibly shaken a day after the ambush. "They have returned to our city."

The soldiers were with the Kurdish-led Syrian Democratic Forces, which fought with the U.S. to bring down an Islamic State empire in Syria and Iraq that at its peak ruled millions of people and pulled in hundreds of millions of dollars a year in extortion and taxes. Six years later, that rare, decisive victory over militancy is being eroded. Islamic State, now a decentralized mobile insurgency, is ex-

Please turn to page A9

Home Sales Get a Lift

Home sales increased in September, aided by a decline in mortgage rates. A2 Median existing-home price, change from a year earlier

Accused Drug Kingpin Nabbed After Escape

MEXICO CITY—The accused Chinese drug boss was this close to the perfect getaway.

By Steve Fisher, Santiago Pérez and José de Córdoba

In July, Zhi Dong Zhang—whom the Justice Department accuses of being the most important link between Chinese chemicals and Mexican cartels making fentanyl—escaped from house arrest in Mexico, where he was set to be extradited to the U.S. on drug trafficking and money laundering charges. He then hopped on a private jet to Cuba and boarded a flight to Russia, beyond the reach of U.S. and Mexican

President Pardons Convicted Binance Founder

The move follows months of efforts by Zhao to boost Trump crypto company

President Trump pardoned Changpeng Zhao, the convicted founder of the crypto exchange Binance, after months of efforts by Zhao to boost the Trump family's crypto company.

By Rebecca Ballhaus, Josh Dawsey, Patricia Kowsmann and Angus Berwick

The president signed the pardon on Wednesday, people familiar with the matter said. Trump recently indicated to advisers that he was sympathetic to arguments of political persecution related to Zhao and others, one of the people said. White House press secretary Karoline Leavitt said Trump "exercised his constitutional authority by issuing a pardon for Mr. Zhao, who was prosecuted by the Biden Administration in their war on cryptocurrency." She said:

Please turn to page A4

Trump Tanks Trade Talks With Canada

WASHINGTON—President Trump said late Thursday he was terminating trade negotiations with Canada, pointing to an advertisement sponsored by the Ontario government that features the voice of Ronald Reagan speaking negatively about tariffs. "Based on their egregious behavior, ALL TRADE NEGOTIATIONS WITH CANADA ARE HEREBY TERMINATED,"

By Alex Leary, Gavin Bade and Vipal Monga

Please turn to page A2