

I know why we're suddenly seeing so much more of Archie and Lilibet

NADINE DORRIES PAGE 17

NOW LABOUR IS FACING A SUMMER OF DISCONTENT

Nurses, teachers and council staff issue strike threats as Tories say Reeves is soft on unions

TEACHERS, nurses and council workers issued strike warnings last night after Rachel Reeves ruled out extra cash for public sector pay rises.

The Chancellor put the Government on a collision course with unions by warning that any

By Jason Groves and Martin Beckford

inflation-busting rises would have to be funded by cuts to services.

The clash could put Britain on track for a summer of discontent, despite Labour's pledge to usher in a new era of industrial harmony.

As the Tories accused Labour of being 'soft' with its union paymasters, independent pay review bodies look set to blow a £3billion hole in Ms Reeves' spending plans by recommending above-inflation pay rises for millions of public sector workers.

Reviews are expected to recommend a 4 per cent pay rise for half a million teachers and a 3 per cent increase for 1.4 million NHS staff – above the 2.8 per cent affordability cap set by the Treasury. Downing Street yesterday

Turn to Page 6

Target: Robbery victim Kim Kardashian

'Grandpa Gang' go on trial for Kim's £7.5m jewellery heist

PAGE 13