

Insistent whisper that haunts me: Wouldn't you be a little bit happier if you were a bit thinner?

BY ELIZABETH DAY

SEE PAGE 29

LIVERPOOL SUSPECT IS A COMPANY DIRECTOR

Parade driver held for attempted murder is father-of-three who lives in a cul-de-sac

THE man who drove into fans at Liverpool's victory parade is a middle-class father who runs his own business.

The 53-year-old is married with three teenage children, the Mail can reveal.

Neighbours of the company director – who lives in a smart, £300,000, four-bedroomed detached property

By Liz Hull, Inderdeep Bains, Sabrina Miller and Nick Pisa

on a neat estate – described him as a 'family man' with 'well-behaved children' who must have 'panicked in the moment'.

Last night he was still being held in a Merseyside police station on suspicion of multiple attempted murders, driving under the influence of drugs and dangerous driving after detectives were given an extension to question him further. He was arrested on Monday after a Ford Galaxy people carrier ploughed through a crowd of fans in the city centre.

Seven people remained in hospital last night but were said to be recovering. Several children were injured in the carnage.

When police arrived at the suspect's home soon after the horror, neighbours assumed the family had been victims of a burglary.

'It's completely out of character,' one said. 'They are a nice family, the

Turn to Page 5

Strictly star Kara's double mastectomy after learning of Jolie gene

SEE PAGE 7

Brave decision: Mother-of-two Kara Tointon