■ President His Highness Shaikh Mohammad Bin Zayed Al Nahyan arrived in Salalah yesterday on a visit to Oman, where he was received by Sultan Haitham Bin Tariq. The leaders discussed regional developments, including the Israeli attack on Qatar. They reaffirmed the UAE and Oman's firm condemnation of the attack, expressing their full solidarity with Qatar and support for any steps it may take to safeguard its sovereignty, security, and the wellbeing of its citizens. The leaders stressed that Israeli aggressions against Qatar represent a violation of state sovereignty, a breach of international law, and a serious threat to regional peace and stability.

Qatar PM warns of 'collective response'

SAYS NETANYAHU 'JUST KILLED ANY HOPE FOR HOSTAGES'

DUBAI

Gulf News Report

Qatar Prime Minister Shaikh Mohammad Bin Abdulrahman Bin Jassim Al Thani has called Israel's strike on Doha "state terror", adding that Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu "killed any hope" for the hostages remaining in Gaza.

In an exclusive interview with CNN, Shaikh Mohammad said: "I think that what Netanyahu has done yesterday, he just killed any hope for those hostages. I was meeting one of the hostages' families the morning of the attack. They are counting on this [cease-fire] mediation, they have no other hope for that."

'State terror'

"I have no words to express how enraged we are from such an action ... this is state terror. We are betrayed."

Hamas has confirmed that five of its officials were killed in the Israeli strike on Tuesday, including the son and office director of its exiled Gaza chief Khalil Al Hayya, though Al Hayya himself was not among the dead. A Qatari security officer was also killed.

The strike took place barely 30km from Al Udeid Air Base, the forward headquarters of US Central Command and the largest American military installation in the Middle East.

Shaikh Mohammad said he could not predict what Hamas' response to the latest US principles for a ceasefire would have been had Israel not struck Doha on Tuesday, but said that he believed that Israel and Hamas "are going to run out of chances" to secure a ceasefire.

'Meaningless' talks

"I've been rethinking, even about the entire process for the last few weeks, that Netanyahu was just wasting our time," he told CNN. "He wasn't serious about anything," he added, as he dismissed recent talks as "meaningless."

Shaikh Mohammad said the Qataris are "reassessing everything" around their involvement in any future ceasefire talks, and added they are in a "very detailed conversation" with the US government on how to proceed.

He said he hopes there will be a "collective response" from regional allies that "deters Israel from continuing this bullying."

When asked about the fate of Hamas' chief negotiator Khalil Al Hayya, he said: "Until now ... there is no official declaration."

Larry Ellison, Oracle's 81-year-old co-founder and chair, saw his fortune swell by more than $100 billion in a single day — one of the largest wealth jumps ever recorded. The surge briefly propelled him past Tesla CEO Elon Musk, making him the world's richest person with an estimated net worth of $393 billion, according to Bloomberg's Billionaires Index.

Ellison briefly overtook Musk on Wednesday before slipping back behind him by market at about $960 billion (€707 billion) and Ellison's stake at $393 billion, eclipsing Musk's $384 billion fortune. But the lead was short-lived. Oracle closed 36 per cent higher at $328, leaving Ellison with $378 billion — just shy of Musk's total. Both men remain comfortably ahead of Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg and Amazon's Jeff Bezos.

close. His net worth spiked after Oracle — the software giant he co-founded and still owns a 41 per cent stake in — reported blockbuster earnings.

Shares surged more than 40 per cent in early trading, at one point valuing Oracle at about $960 billion (€707 billion) and Ellison's stake at $393 billion, eclipsing Musk's $384 billion fortune. But the lead was short-lived. Oracle closed 36 per cent higher at $328, leaving Ellison with $378 billion — just shy of Musk's total.
