Trump: 'Great progress' on Gaza ceasefire

AFTER IRAN-ISRAEL DEAL, HOPES RISE FOR A TRUCE IN EMBATTLED STRIP

JERUSALEM

US President Donald Trump said yesterday that "great progress" was being made to end the Israel-Hamas war in Gaza as a new ceasefire push began more than 20 months since the start of the conflict.

"I think great progress is being made on Gaza," Trump told reporters ahead of a Nato summit in the Netherlands, adding that his special envoy Steve Witkoff had told him "Gaza is very close."

He linked his optimism about imminent "very good news" for the Gaza Strip to a ceasefire agreed on Tuesday between Israel and Hamas backer Iran to end their 12-day war.

Trump added that the US would hold talks with Iran next week, with a possible agreement on the table about Tehran's nuclear programme.

"We're going to talk to them next week with Iran, we may sign an agreement, I don't know," said Trump.

Optimism all around

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has also suggested that Israel's blitz of Iran's nuclear and missile facilities, as well as its security forces linked to overseas militant groups, could help end the Gaza conflict.

calls from opposition politicians, relatives of hostages being held in Gaza and even members of his ruling coalition to bring an end to the fighting.

Key mediator Qatar announced Tuesday that it would launch a new push for a ceasefire, with Hamas yesterday saying talks had "intensified".

"Our communications with the brother mediators in Egypt and Qatar have not stopped and have intensified in recent hours," Hamas official Taher Al Nunu told AFP. He cautioned, however, that the group had "not yet received any new proposals" to end the war.

The Israeli government declined to comment on any new ceasefire talks beyond saying that efforts to return Israeli hostages in Gaza were ongoing "on the battlefield and via negotiations".

Meanwhile, the UAE, via "Operation Chivalrous Knight 3", has delivered a new batch of emergency medical aid to health facilities in the Gaza Strip, in co-operation with the World Health Organisation (WHO). — AFP
