GCC security and stability indivisible, summit declares

LEADERS APPROVE ESTABLISHMENT OF A GCC CIVIL AVIATION AUTHORITY

DUBAI

BY STEPHEN N. R.

Senior Associate Editor

Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) leaders yesterday declared that the security and stability of member states are “indivisible,” warning that any act targeting one country amounts to a threat against the entire bloc.

On behalf of President His Highness Sheikh Mohamed Bin Zayed Al Nahyan, Sheikh Mansour Bin Zayed Al Nahyan, Vice-President, Deputy Prime Minister and Chairman of the Presidential Court, participated in the 46th GCC Summit in Bahrain.

The leaders emphasised respect for sovereignty and rejected interference in internal affairs. The declaration called for stronger international cooperation in safeguarding regional stability and supporting sustainable development. Jassem Al Budaiwi, GCC Secretary-General, condemned Iranian missile strikes and Israeli attacks targeting Qatar in June and September, calling them a “blatant breach” of sovereignty and international law.

Gulf leaders called for an urgent meeting of the GCC Joint Defence Council to discuss next steps after Israeli strike in Doha targeted Hamas officials. They also approved the establishment of a GCC Civil Aviation Authority, to be headquartered in the UAE.

UAE's commitment

In its statement, the UAE reaffirmed commitment to joint Gulf action, calling it a fundamental pillar for regional security, stability, development and prosperity.

Bahrain's King Hamad Bin Isa Al Khalifa stressed the importance of completing GCC economic integration, including the customs union, common market and strategic cooperation in food, water and energy security. The leaders also welcomed the participation of Italy's Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni, agreeing to develop a joint action plan to elevate relations to a comprehensive strategic partnership.
