

Chicago Tribune

QUESTIONS? CALL 1-800-TRIBUNE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 7, 2025

BREAKING NEWS AT CHICAGOTRIBUNE.COM

Carney insists Canada ‘not for sale’

PM, Trump remain apart on trade levies, US call for 51st state

By Rob Gillies and Josh Boak
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Donald Trump and Canadian Prime Minister Mark Carney faced off in the Oval Office on Tuesday and showed no signs of retreating from their gaping differences in an ongoing trade war that has shattered decades of trust between the two countries.

The two kept it civil, but as for Trump’s calls to make Canada the 51st state, Carney insisted his nation was “not for sale” and Trump shot back, “time will tell.”

Asked by a reporter if there was anything Carney could tell him to lift his tariffs of as much as 25% on Canada, Trump bluntly said: “No.”

Carney acknowledged that no bit of rhetoric on tariffs would be enough to sway Trump, saying that “this is a bigger discussion.”

“There are much bigger forces involved,” the Canadian leader continued. “And this will take some time and some discussions. And that’s why we’re here, to have those discussions.”

The meeting between the two leaders showcased the full spectrum of Trump’s unique mix of aggression, hospitality and stubbornness.

Shortly before Carney’s arrival, Trump insulted Canada by posting on social media that the United States didn’t need “ANYTHING” from its northern neighbor, only to then turn on the charm and praise Carney’s election win in person before showing his obstinateness on matters of policy substance.

Carney won the job of prime minister by promising to confront the increased aggression shown by Trump, even as he has preserved

Turn to Canada, Page 2

Canadian Prime Minister Mark Carney speaks Tuesday with President Donald Trump in the Oval Office. ERIC LEE/THE NEW YORK TIMES

AUDREY RICHARDSON/CHICAGO TRIBUNE

REAL ID rush

Wanda Bryant, center, hands her documents to Pedro Alvarez, with the Secretary of State’s office, while waiting to obtain a state ID at the REAL ID Supercenter in Chicago on Tuesday. The line started on the corner of Clark and Lake streets, and extended down Lake onto Dearborn Street. The deadline for REAL ID is here. Find out what you need to know. Chicagoland, Page 3

Race to succeed Durbin gets more crowded

Rep. Kelly’s bid sets up potential Democratic proxy battle with Pritzker

By Dan Petrella
Chicago Tribune

By entering the increasingly crowded race to replace retiring U.S. Sen. Dick Durbin, south suburban U.S. Rep. Robin Kelly set up a potential Democratic proxy battle with Gov. JB Pritzker.

Kelly’s announcement Tuesday that she is vying for the Senate seat came two weeks after Lt. Gov. Juliana Stratton launched her campaign with the backing of Pritzker, her two-time running mate.

The race for the party’s nomination to replace Durbin, a Springfield Democrat who was an ally of Kelly’s and announced in April that he would not seek a sixth term, isn’t the first time the seven-term congresswoman from Matteson has faced off against a candidate backed by the billionaire governor and his political apparatus.

U.S. Rep. Robin Kelly is a seven-term congresswoman from Matteson. BRIAN CASSELLA/CHICAGO TRIBUNE

After working with Durbin in 2021 to defeat a Pritzker-backed candidate and become the first woman and first Black official

Turn to Kelly, Page 4

Rep. Krishnamoorthi pitches himself as ‘radical common sense progressive’

By Rick Pearson
Chicago Tribune

Another contestant joined the still-emerging field of Democrats vying to succeed U.S. Sen. Dick Durbin Wednesday as five-term northwest suburban U.S. Rep. Raja Krishnamoorthi launched his bid, pitching himself as a “radical common sense progressive” to take on President Donald Trump.

“A president, ignoring the Constitution, out for revenge, acting like a dictator, claiming he’s a king, surrounded by billionaire backers and MAGA extremists, threatening our rights, rigging the rules to line their pockets,” the 51-year-old Krishnamoorthi of Schaumburg says in his near

U.S. Rep. Raja Krishnamoorthi is a five-term congressman from Schaumburg. STACEY WESCOTT/CHICAGO TRIBUNE

2½-minute video announcement released Wednesday. “Wrecking the economy, they profit and working people pay. It’s insanity. People want to know, at this moment in this time, where is the power to fight back?”

“I’ve spent my career stand-

Turn to Krishnamoorthi, Page 4

Did British woman use ICE to avoid facing trial?

Held on drug charges, prosecutors say she tried to get deported

By Madeline Buckley
Chicago Tribune

Last year, 29-year-old Kimberly Hall was arrested at O’Hare International Airport with 21 bundles of cocaine after traveling from Mexico, according to court records, in a case that was splashed across her hometown British tabloids.

Now, as the United Kingdom citizen faces felony drug charges, she is entangled in an immigration-related fight with the state’s attorney’s office as she seeks release from Cook County Jail while awaiting trial.

Prosecutors say that, while initially released on electronic monitoring, she sought out federal immigration authorities in an attempt to get deported and evade trial. She was very nearly able to pull it off, according to prosecutors.

Her attorney, though, in court documents countered that she was detained by Immigration and Customs Enforcement after simply asking questions about how to obtain authorization to find work. In a recently filed request for her release, her attorney argued that a Cook County judge improperly detained her, reasoning that President Donald Trump’s administration is “wildly unpredictable.”

“It’s abnormal. That’s what caused this whole fiasco,” said Hall’s attorney, Brandon Carter, of ICE’s attempt to deport Hall. “From my understanding, the prosecution was barely able to keep her here.”

The unusual dispute will next

Turn to Hall, Page 4

INSIDE

Pritzker to testify on ‘sanctuary’ policies

The governor will appear before a Congressional committee about the state’s policies on immigration. Chicagoland, Page 3

Preparations for conclave complete

Cardinal electors say selecting a leader who can unite the church is key. Nation & World inside Chicagoland, Page 8

TODAY’S WEATHER

High 65 Low 46

Complete Chicagoland forecast on Page 20

$4.00 city and suburbs and elsewhere
177th year No. 127 © Chicago Tribune

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY!

Jewel-Osco

Prices valid only at Chicagoland Jewel-Osco stores
OFFERS VALID 5/7-5/13/25

overjoyed

Dozen Rose Bunches

17.99

USDA Choice Filet Mignon Approximately 6 oz. Portion, sold by ea. • LIMIT 4

STEAKS, Waterfront Bistro 61-70 Ct. Cooked Shrimp Peeled and Deveined, sold by lb. • LIMIT 4 lbs. or Cold Water Lobster Tail Frozen 4 oz., sold by ea. LIMIT 10 TAILS

4.99

Strawberries 1 lb. pkg. or Blackberries 6 oz. pkg.

69¢ EA. LIMIT 2 OF EACH.

Click to redeem up to 2 of ea. item in a single transaction. PRICE WITHOUT COUPON VARIES

Fannie May Candy 11-11.5oz.

BUY 1 GET 1 FREE EXACT ITEM ONLY