

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

DOW JONES | News Corp *****

WEDNESDAY, JULY 9, 2025 ~ VOL. CCLXXXVI NO. 7

WSJ.com

★★★★ $5.00

DJIA 44240.76 ▼ 165.60 0.37% NASDAQ 20418.46 ▲ 0.03% STOXX 600 545.71 ▲ 0.4% 10-YR. TREAS. ▼ 5/32, yield 4.415% OIL $68.33 ▲ $0.40 GOLD $3,307.00 ▼ $25.20 EURO $1.1726 YEN 146.56

What's News

Business & Finance

◆ Copper prices surged and the Dow slipped 0.4% after Trump set a large tariff on the metal and held to his trade-deals deadline. Copper futures soared 13% to settle at $5,6450 a pound. The S&P 500 fell less than 0.1% and the Nasdaq rose less than 0.1%. B12

◆ Boeing's commercial plane deliveries for the second quarter hit the highest quarterly level since 2023, a promising sign for the company as it works to recover from a series of safety and manufacturing setbacks. B1

◆ Grok, the flagship chatbot behind Elon Musk's artificial-intelligence company xAI, published a number of antisemitic posts. B1

◆ Apple COO Jeff Williams will step down from his post after roughly a decade as the tech giant's No. 2 under Chief Executive Tim Cook. B3

◆ The bill Trump signed into law on July 4 favors obsolete gasoline-powered cars and hands Chinese electric-car makers a global victory, the leader of a Chinese auto-industry group said. A2

◆ Porsche car deliveries fell 6% in the first half of the year to 146,391 vehicles as strong growth in North America failed to offset sharp declines in China and Germany. B2

◆ Daimler Truck said it expects to cut around 5,000 jobs in Germany over five years. B2

◆ Kirk Tanner is leaving as CEO of Wendy's to take the top role at Hershey. B3

◆ Telenor agreed to acquire the Norwegian consumer business of GlobalConnect in a deal valued at more than $592 million. B4

World-Wide

◆ Trump stepped up his criticism of President Vladimir Putin of Russia, the starkest sign yet of their souring relationship as the U.S. struggles to break the monthslong impasse to end the war in Ukraine. A1

◆ Trump threatened a tariff of as much as 200% on pharmaceutical imports and said he plans to impose a 50% duty on copper, sending the price of the metal to an all-time high. A1

◆ Germany's exports fell for a second straight month in May in response to higher U.S. tariffs, as Europe's largest economy appears set for another year of little or no growth. A16

◆ Questions are intensifying about why victims didn't get more notice before floodwaters swept more than 100 people to their deaths in Texas Hill Country. In Kerr County alone, there are 161 known missing people. A6

◆ Eleven people were charged in connection with the Fourth of July shooting of a police officer at a Homeland Security detention center in Texas. A4

◆ The Homeland Security secretary said the TSA will allow fliers to keep their shoes on when undergoing airport security screening. A4

◆ The Supreme Court lifted a halt on Trump's plan to shrink the federal workforce, clearing the way for potential mass layoffs. A3

◆ Five Israeli soldiers were killed in a Hamas ambush in northern Gaza, adding to deadly incidents for the country's military that are fueling a debate in Israel about ending the war. A7

CONTENTS		Opinion.....	A13-15
Arts in Review.....	A11	Personal Journal A9-10
Business & Finance B26		Property Report....	B6
Business News.....	B3	Sports.....	A12
Crossword.....	A12	Technology.....	B4
Heard on Street.....	B13	U.S. News.....	A2-4,6
Markets.....	B12	World News.....	A7,16

© 2025 Dow Jones & Company, Inc. All Rights Reserved

In Spain, It's Time for Horns to Meet Dilemma

ALBERT GEAUDET/REUTERS

CATTLE CALL: Revelers scramble to avoid stampeding bulls Tuesday during the San Fermin festival in Pamplona, Spain. The annual event, which runs through July 14, was made famous by Ernest Hemingway's 1926 novel 'The Sun Also Rises.'

President Plans Copper Tariff, Sends Metal to a Record High

By BRIAN SCHWARTZ AND GAVIN BADE

WASHINGTON—President Trump said Tuesday he plans to impose a 50% tariff on all copper imported into the U.S., sending prices of the metal to an all-time high, while threatening a levy of as much as 200% on pharmaceutical imports.

The new tariff threats came a day after the president delayed by three weeks implementation of the broad tariffs against U.S. trading partners that were due to take effect this week. That decision came after advisers including Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent told him he could get trade deals with more time, according to people familiar with the matter.

Trump said Tuesday that he would hold firm on that Aug. 1 deadline for the so-called reciprocal tariff rates to take effect. His stance on that August deadline changed multiple times in a matter of hours, with him saying it could be extended beyond the date before insisting that it would not, and then arguing that it was never altered to begin with.

Trump's comments about copper sent front-month U.S. copper futures soaring 13% to settle at an all-time high of $5,6450 per pound, in their biggest one-day move in records going back to 1968, according to Dow Jones Market Data.

The broader market was little moved by the trade announcements. The Dow Jones Industrial Average declined 166 points, while the broad S&P 500 slipped less than 0.1% and the Nasdaq Composite rose just under 0.1%.

The Trump administration had signaled months ago that tariffs were in the works for

Please turn to page A2

- ◆ Asian allies seek wiggle room on tariffs..... A2
- ◆ EU officials' talks with U.S. test bloc's unity..... A2
- ◆ German exports fall again as tariffs take bite..... A16

Europe Cracks Down On Free Speech

Loosely defined laws and the rise of social media have led to zealous policing

Lucy Connolly, a 41-year-old nanny in England, has been in jail for more than 330 days because of a message

By Natasha Dangoor, Bertrand Benoit and Max Colchester

she posted on X.

Last July, Connolly was at her home, where she runs a small daycare, when news broke that three girls in the town of Southport—aged 6, 7 and 9—were murdered by a knife-wielding man at a dance workshop.

False rumors soon spread online that the perpetrator was a Muslim asylum seeker—he had been born in the U.K. to Christian immigrants from Rwanda.

Connolly, who is mother to a 12-year-old girl and a boy who died as a toddler years ago, and whose husband was then a conservative councilor for their county, tapped out an angry message to her

Please turn to page A8

INSIDE

JULIO CORTEZ/AP

U.S. NEWS

Trump administration seeks ban on Chinese buying U.S. farmland. A3

BUSINESS & FINANCE

Goldman hires former U.K. Prime Minister Sunak to help attract new clients. B1

Danger Signs Grew As Campers Slept

It was a Monday afternoon, June 30, and Dick and Tweety Eastland were in their customary place at this time of year: welcoming another crop of girls to the summer camp in Hunt, Texas, that their family has presided over for most of its 99 years.

By Joshua Chaffin, Scott Calvert, Jim Carlton and Patience Haggin

The previous day, girls had reached Camp Mystic's main campus for the start of the summer's second term. Now it was opening day at its sister campus just down the road,

Camp Mystic Cypress Lake.

The excitement swelled as the four-hour bus ride from Houston progressed, Christy Colby Heno, a chaperone, recalled, until the girls would scan the Hill Country brush in search of the familiar "M-Y-S-T-I-C" letters standing atop Sky High mountain.

A tunnel of counselors greeted the new campers when the bus at last arrived, with Dick and Tweety in the thick of it all. "Oh, my God," Heno said. "Their faces when they get off the bus!"

Please turn to page A6

◆ Lack of warning at camp draws scrutiny..... A6

These Women Dress Up As Children

* * * Vanity sizing limits clothing choices; 'so much glitter'

By SUZANNE KAPNER

Jasmine Charbonier never had trouble finding clothes that fit her 130-pound frame—until recently.

"Now, everything looks like I'm wearing my big brother's hand-me-downs," said the 37-year-old marketing strategist in Tampa, Fla.

The apparel industry for years has been employing vanity sizing—making clothes larger while keeping the sizes the same. Making matters worse for slender shoppers is a current fashion moment in which oversize looks are in vogue. The result: clothes so big that slender people are

Please turn to page A10

Scourge of 'Spot-Fixing' Slams Sports in U.S.

By JARED DIAMOND AND JOSHUA ROBINSON

When Cleveland Guardians pitcher Luis Ortiz spiked a slider in the dirt to begin the third inning of his most recent outing, nothing seemed out of the ordinary.

Ortiz has thrown more than 1,500 pitches this season, and a third of them have been balls out of the strike zone. There was no reason to think twice about one that slipped.

But within the gambling industry, alarms were blaring. A betting integrity firm had identified unusual wagering activity on that specific pitch being a ball—a pitch Ortiz had just hurled so wildly that it couldn't have been hit with a tree branch.

It wasn't the only time Ortiz's work had raised concerns, people familiar with the matter said. Similarly strange bets had come in on Ortiz's first pitch of the second inning of a game 12 days earlier. The pitch in question that time was also a slider that bounced before reaching the catcher.

Last week, Major League Baseball put the 26-year-old right-hander from the Dominican Republic on nondisciplinary paid leave while it investigates the matter.

If Ortiz is found to have been involved with betting on his own performance, he would likely be banned from the sport for life. (A representative for Ortiz didn't respond to requests for comment.)

U.S. sports has been riddled with betting scandals over the past couple of years, with separate incidents involving former Toronto Raptors forward Jontay Porter, MLB umpire Pat Hoberg, and Shohei Ohtani's interpreter, Ippei Mizuhara. The situation involving Ortiz, however, could turn out to be the most explosive can help millions of diners find the best seat in the house. Every minute.

Please turn to page A12

Agentforce

Agentforce What AI Was Meant to Be