

Why Gwynnie launched an all-out breakfast war on neighbour Meghan

SEE PAGES 20-21

LABOUR TO BLOCK BID TO BAN SOLAR PANELS MADE BY SLAVES

So Miliband can put them on schools and hospitals

By Harriet Line
Deputy Political Editor

LABOUR will be turning 'a blind eye to slavery' if it blocks a bid to ban ministers from buying solar panels feared to have been made with forced labour, MPs warned last night.

Peers had sought to stop taxpayers' cash from being used to buy products from a company where there was 'credible evidence' of modern slavery in its supply chain.

But the Government will whip its MPs to vote against the Lords amendment to the Great British Energy Bill in the Commons today, meaning solar panels made with forced labour could end up on the roofs of hundreds of schools and NHS sites.

Energy Secretary Ed Miliband admitted last week that some solar panels bought for a £180million project for schools and hospitals will come from China. The country is

Turn to Page 4

FREEBIEGATE DAY TWO

Chancellor of the expenses: Rachel Reeves yesterday

Now Reeves in hot water over free £276 theatre tickets

SEE PAGES 6-7