

Why I fear there's a troubling code of silence inside Strictly over Wynne's vile sexist slur

BY THE WRITER WHO BROKE THE STORY PAGES 4-5

Daily

Mail

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 2025

dailymail.co.uk

£1.10 85p to subscribers

SCAN TO SUBSCRIBE
AND SAVE

As Chancellor launches latest bid to revive flat-lining economy, critics tell her to...

TEAR DOWN BARRIERS TO GROWTH YOU CREATED

LABOUR was last night urged to stop 'punishing' business with anti-growth measures as it launched its latest bid to revive the economy.

In a major speech today, Chan-

By Jason Groves
Political Editor

cellor Rachel Reeves will insist she is ready to move 'further and faster' in pursuit of growth.

And yesterday the Prime Minister announced he is introducing a new 'growth test' that will mean measures are vetoed unless it can be shown they will boost the economy.

But despite this, No 10 confirmed a string of damaging policies - including its £25billion National Insurance raid - will still go ahead, leading critics to urge ministers to 'unblock the barriers to growth they

Turn to Page 6

Meet your new neighbour, Meghan!

SEE
PAGE
NINE

