Arab Parliament slams Tehran's statements

Gulf News Report

The UAE has strongly condemned statements issued by Iran's Foreign Ministry, reaffirming its complete rejection of any allegations or threats that undermine its sovereignty and national security.

In a statement, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs said the UAE firmly opposes any claims or actions that could affect its sovereign decision-making, stressing that its international partnerships and defence relations are a purely sovereign matter.

It added that any rhetoric containing direct or indirect threats to the UAE's security, or targeting its civilian and vital infrastructure, as well as its citizens, residents and visitors, is unacceptable and contradicts international law and the principles of good neighbourliness and the UN Charter. The UAE reaffirmed that it retains full sovereign rights and will respond to any threats or hostile actions through legal, diplomatic and military means, emphasising that it will not be deterred from safeguarding its national interests and independence.

COMMITTEE TO DOCUMENT IRAN'S CRIMES

Sheikh Mansour Bin Zayed Al Nahyan, Vice-President, Deputy Prime Minister, and Chairman of the Presidential Court, has issued Resolution No (4) of 2026 concerning the formation of the National Committee for Documenting Acts of Aggression, International Crimes, and Resulting Damages. The resolution stipulates that the committee shall be chaired by the UAE Attorney General and tasked with documenting the Iranian acts of aggression, international crimes, and the damages resulting from them, which affected the territory of the UAE, its citizens, visitors, and residents, thereby ensuring the establishment of a comprehensive national record based on reliable evidence.

Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) Secretary-General Jassem Mohammed Al Budaiwi has also strongly condemned and rejected what he described as false and unacceptable allegations contained in a statement issued by the Iranian Ministry of Foreign Affairs against the UAE.

'Misleading allegations'

In a statement issued in Riyadh, Al Budaiwi said these "misleading allegations" reflect "the escalatory and provocative approach pursued by Iran towards the countries of the region." He added that Iran "has not only carried out reckless attacks targeting the territory of the UAE, but has also continued its attempts to distort facts, in clear violation of international norms and laws."

Meanwhile, Mohamed Bin Ahmed Al Yamahi, President of the Arab Parliament, strongly condemned and denounced the hostile and provocative Iranian statements and claims against the UAE, stressing that they represent a dangerous escalation, a rejected aggressive approach, a blatant violation of all international norms and conventions, and a desperate attempt to undermine the UAE's sovereignty and question its firm positions.
