STARMER CAVES IN TO REBELS ON BENEFITS

KEIR Starmer was last night forced into a humiliating climb-down by Labour's army of welfare rebels. The Prime Minister is said

By David Churchill
and Jason Groves

to have handed them 'massive concessions' in a bid to avoid defeat in a crunch vote on benefit cuts next week.

Experts warned it meant fresh tax raids this autumn were almost inevitable because the reforms, projected to save £5 billion, will now save much less.

The concessions are understood to include watering down reforms to personal independence
