RUSSIA BLAMES UK FOR DRONE ATTACK ON JETS

...and says it could lead to World War Three

By Mark Nicol Diplomacy Editor

RUSSIA last night blamed Britain for Ukraine's devastating drone attacks on its airfields.

And it claimed that this country's alleged role in the strike that destroyed as many as 40 Russian aircraft could lead to 'World War Three'.

The Kremlin turned its sights on Britain with its ambassador Andrei Kelin insisting that the UK military's advanced technology helped Ukraine to hit targets inside Russia. He offered no evidence for the claim.

He issued his warning as President Trump told White House reporters he did not believe Russia and Ukraine would sign a peace deal.

The Russian bombers and other large aircraft were destroyed at five separate bases as part of the audacious Operation Spiderweb launched on Sunday.

In an interview with Sky News, Mr Kelin claimed Britain had played a major role in the covert operation by providing intelligence.

Mr Kelin, who has previously threatened the UK over its support for Ukraine, said: 'This kind of attack involves, of course, provision of very high technology, so-called geo-spatial data, which can only be done by
