CAMPAIGNERS last night threatened to scupper Keir Starmer's migrant return deal with France.

Only a day after unveiling the scheme alongside Emmanuel Macron, the Prime Minister was facing objections from Europe and charities that helped ground the Tories' Rwanda plan.

The new scheme was condemned by campaigners, who said they would support court cases brought by small-boat arrivals chosen to be sent back to France. A border union boss said the legal challenges could take a year.

Brussels ominously warned that it was assessing whether the scheme complied with the 'spirit and the letter of the law', while
