

FREE INSIDE Your bumper Christmas TV magazine

Six giant pages for each day's viewing

Daily Mail

dailymail.co.uk

£1.50 £1.25 to subscribers

SCAN TO SUBSCRIBE
AND SAVE

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21, 2024

Carnage at Christmas market

Horror as toddler among two dead after car rams into German crowd 'in a deliberate attack'
leaving up to 70 injured

Terror: Victims are treated in Magdeburg
last night

A CAR ploughed into a Christmas market last night in a suspected terror attack.

Two people, including a toddler, were confirmed dead with nearly

By Tom Kelly and Matthew Cox

70 injured – 15 seriously – in horrifying scenes in the city of Magdeburg, 100 miles west of Berlin.

Officials said the driver of the car was a 50-year-old doctor from Saudi Arabia who arrived in Germany in 2006 and was given refugee status in 2016.

Graphic footage on social media showed a dark-coloured BMW being driven at speed into the crowd, which was packed with families and children – travelling 400 yards before coming to a stop at the opposite end of the market.

Victims were seen sprawled on the

Turn to Page 4