UAE puts 16 individuals and 5 entities on terror list

ABU DHABI

The UAE has designated 21 individuals and entities on its Local Terrorist List over alleged links to Lebanon's Hezbollah.

The designation was issued under Cabinet Resolution No. (63) of 2026, through which the UAE Cabinet approved the inclusion of 16 individuals and five entities on the list of individuals and organisations supporting terrorism (Local Terrorist List), in accordance with UAE laws and regulations.

The move forms part of the UAE's ongoing efforts, both domestically and internationally, to disrupt and dismantle networks linked to the financing of terrorism and related activities, whether directly or indirectly.

Freezing assets

Under the resolution, all regulatory authorities are required to identify any individuals or entities connected through financial or commercial relationships with those listed, and to take necessary measures in line with applicable UAE laws, including freezing assets within 24 hours.

The decision reflects the UAE's firm and longstanding commitment to combating terrorism and extremism in all forms, and to preventing the financing of terrorist groups and organisations, as part of broader efforts to enhance security and stability and address threats to regional and international peace.

HORMUZ CRISIS CASTS A SHADOW OVER TRUMP-XI MEETING IN CHINA

Iran war and disrupted Gulf shipping to dominate talks

DUBAI

US President Donald Trump arrived in Beijing yesterday for high-stakes talks with Chinese President Xi Jinping, with the Iran war and its growing impact on global energy markets expected to dominate discussions.

The main summit events begin today, when the two leaders will hold bilateral talks, visit the Temple of Heaven and attend a formal state banquet.

Trump calls UAE President

Ahead of the visit, President His Highness Sheikh Mohamed Bin Zayed Al Nahyan received a phone call from Trump during which the two leaders discussed strategic cooperation and ways to strengthen UAE-US ties in support of mutual interests. They also exchanged views on the latest developments in the Middle East.

Sheikh Mohamed also received a phone call from Mohammed Bin Salman, Crown Prince and Prime Minister of Saudi Arabia. The two leaders discussed fraternal relations and reviewed regional developments and their implications for regional and international security and stability, as well as ongoing efforts to address the crisis.

was received by Chinese Vice-President Han Zheng, China's ambassador to Washington Xie Feng, Vice Foreign Minister Ma Zhaoxu and US envoy to Beijing David Perdue.

"We're the two superpowers," Trump told reporters before departing Washington. "We're the strongest nation on Earth in terms of military. China's considered second."

Trump arrives in Beijing as the Iran conflict continues to cast a shadow over the global economy. Iran has effectively disrupted normal shipping through the Strait of Hormuz since the outbreak of war with the United States and Israel on February 28, stranding oil and LNG tankers and driving energy prices sharply higher.

Under control

"We have a lot of things to discuss. I wouldn't say Iran is one of them, to be honest with you, because we have Iran very much under control," he said.

However, Iran's Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi visited

Beijing last week, underscoring China's growing diplomatic role in the crisis.

China's top diplomat has also urged Pakistan to intensify mediation efforts between Tehran and Washington, including discussions on reopening Hormuz.

Meanwhile, Iran's military spokesman said yesterday that Tehran's control over the Strait of Hormuz could generate "significant" economic revenues and strengthen the country's international position.

UAE students score big in CBSE Grade 12

High pass rates, strong scores despite disruptions

DUBAI

Students at Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) curriculum schools across the UAE received their Grade 12 board results yesterday, with institutions reporting high pass rates and strong scores despite an academic year disrupted by regional conflict.

The results came after the national secondary board cancelled all remaining examinations for Gulf-based students in March, following the outbreak of conflict on February 28. With exams scheduled between mid-March and mid-April unable to proceed, the board introduced an alternative assessment framework, basing final grades largely on pre-board results.

Schools across the UAE largely defied the disruption, posting 100 per cent pass rates and distinction rates well above 90 per cent at several institutions. Top scorers in the science stream reached 99.4 per cent, while commerce stream leaders hit 99.8 per cent. Dozens of students achieved perfect marks in individual subjects including mathematics, computer science, biology, business studies, and psychology.

Educators expressed pride in their students and teaching staff, noting that the results were particularly meaningful given that they were based on stricter internal assessments rather than the standard board examinations.

The alternative assessment policy was designed to ensure students were not penalised during university admissions, a particular concern given that Grade 12 results are a primary criterion for higher education placements in India.
