Diplomacy key to security, Gargash says

UAE CALLS FOR COLLECTIVE ACTION AND COOPERATION IN THE REGION

ABU DHABI

Dr Anwar Gargash, Diplomatic Adviser to the UAE President, has affirmed that the UAE, under the leadership of President His Highness Sheikh Mohamed Bin Zayed Al Nahyan, continues steadfastly to pursue an approach centred on promoting stability, maximising achievements and building bridges of cooperation across civilisations with countries and peoples worldwide.

He stressed that, despite the crises facing the world, the UAE's approach remains firm and clear, grounded in balance, prioritising dialogue and political solutions, and underpinned by a record of achievements that constitutes the country's most compelling message to the world.

Critical juncture

His remarks came during a keynote session at the UAE Government Annual Meetings 2026, where he said, "In a regional and global environment marked by clamour and political posturing, where facts are mixed with disinformation, the UAE continues steadfastly on its path of achievement, guided by its leadership's conviction that the standing of nations is built on what they achieve for their peoples.

"The region is passing through a critical juncture that demands the highest levels of wisdom and rationality. The UAE's approach remains firmly rooted in balance, prioritising dialogue and political solutions to various crises, seeking common ground, and building bridges of cooperation and partnerships that serve human progress."

Dr Gargash cited the UAE's global leadership in artificial intelligence and digital transformation, achieved through early foresight and sustained efforts, as an inspiring example of the country's vision and approach.

Two pillars

Dr Gargash affirmed that UAE policy rests on two complementary pillars: deterrence and diplomacy.

"Neither can be effective without the other. Deterrence strengthens the credibility of diplomacy, while diplomacy succeeds when pursued from a position of equality and strength. This is the best path towards stable and sustainable regional security," he said.

He noted that UAE diplomacy has maintained an active and comprehensive presence through hundreds of meetings and engagements that have expanded the country's partnerships worldwide, drawing on an established record of credibility and trust. — WAM

Dubai property sales jump 18% to Dh34.8 billion

Stronger demand for homes in Oct amid rise in transactions, mortgage registrations

DUBAI

BY ASHFAQ AHMED

Dubai property market's sales value jumped 18 per cent to Dh34.8 billion in October as more buyers entered the market and demand for residential properties strengthened.

The latest figures show that the number of property transactions increased by 5 per cent to 11,883, marking the first monthly rise after two consecutive months of decline.

Residential properties accounted for the bulk of transactions and October's performance points to improving buyer confidence and sustained interest in Dubai's real estate sector.

PALM SPRINGS

Nakheel unveiled Palm Springs, a community for almost 50,000 residents beside Palm Jebel Ali, on Tuesday. Palm Springs spans 3.8 million square metres. The masterplan includes villas, townhouses and apartments across 15 neighbourhoods.

The total value of transactions reached Dh34.8 billion, almost matching July's Dh34.9 billion despite fewer deals, indicating higher average transaction values.

Residential property transactions rose 6 per cent to 11,294 in October, while their combined value increased 18 per cent to Dh30.2 billion.

Commercial property transactions declined 4 per cent to 589, but their total value increased 22 per cent to Dh4.5 billion, reflecting stronger activity in higher-value commercial deals.

Major driver of growth

Resale properties emerged as a major driver of growth, with transactions climbing 13 per cent to 5,304, representing a 37 per cent increase from their May low.

The value of secondary market sales increased to Dh18.1 billion from Dh15.8 billion in September.

Meanwhile, off-plan properties continued to attract investment. Although the number of primary market transactions remained largely unchanged at 6,579, their combined value rose to Dh16.7 billion from Dh13.6 billion in September.

One of the most significant trends emerging from October's figures is the growing participation of middle-income homebuyers.

UAE issues nationwide weather alert

Residents urged to drive cautiously and avoid wadis, beaches

DUBAI

BY KHITAM AL AMIR
Chief News Editor

The Ministry of Interior has issued a nationwide weather alert, urging residents and motorists to exercise extreme caution as unsettled conditions are expected to bring rain, strong winds, thunderstorms, lightning and possible hail across the country. In an alert issued yesterday, the ministry warned that rainfall and winds of varying intensity could affect several parts of the UAE, with reduced visibility in some areas posing additional risks to motorists.

The ministry called on the public to remain vigilant, follow official safety instructions and take the necessary precautions to protect themselves and others. "With unsettled weather expected across the country, please exercise caution, follow safety guidelines, reduce speed while driving, and stay away from valley channels and areas where water collects," the ministry said. Motorists were particularly urged to reduce their speed and remain alert while driving in rainy conditions.

The ministry also warned residents against approaching wadis, where rainwater can accumulate or flow rapidly, and advised the public to avoid areas prone to flooding.

In addition, it urged people to refrain from going out to sea or visiting beaches during the unstable weather conditions.
