

SCAN TO SUBSCRIBE
AND SAVE

Air fryer diet that will make you feel better AND lose weight...

NO OZEMPIC REQUIRED!

INSPIRE STARTS
PAGE 25

Kemi writes to BBC boss demanding action
over Gaza documentary scandal, and asks:

WAS LICENCE FEE PAYERS' CASH GIVEN TO HAMAS?

KEMI Badenoch has demanded to know if licence-fee cash was given to Hamas terrorists during the making of a controversial BBC documentary.

The Tory leader hit out at corporation boss Tim Davie over

EXCLUSIVE

By David Churchill
Chief Political Correspondent

last week's BBC2 film narrated by the son of a Hamas official.

In an excoriating letter, seen by the Daily Mail, Mrs Badenoch called for an inquiry into any 'potential collusion with Hamas' and 'the possibility of payment' to terrorists. The BBC could not answer her question last night, and is understood to be carrying out 'further due diligence' on how the programme was made.

Mrs Badenoch also said apparent bias in the BBC's reporting of the conflict was not an 'isolated incident' and any review must root out the 'systemic and institutional bias against Israel'. She even threatened to pull her party's support for the

Turn to Page 4

Model look:
Lily James at the Erdem
show last night

Lily's flower power at London Fashion Week

SEE PAGE
NINE