

DAILY NEWS

NEW YORK'S ELECTION NEWSPAPER

FORCED INTO POVERTY

Food banks, such as one pictured, may be last resort for many New Yorkers if government shutdown drags on into next month. On Monday, though, Gov. Hochul announced state will add $30 million in emergency aid to prop up food stamp program for now.

SEE PAGE 2

As state scrambles to find more cash for food stamps, shutdown may push thousands of New Yorkers into destitution on Nov. 1