

I lived out Nicole Kidman's fantasy with a younger man – with startling consequences

SEE PAGES 20-21

Daily Mail

TUESDAY, JANUARY 14, 2025

dailymail.co.uk

£1.10 85p to subscribers

SCAN TO SUBSCRIBE
AND SAVE

TREASURY IN TURMOIL

As pound takes another battering, the PM scrambles to shore up his flailing Chancellor and is forced to declare 'full confidence' in her scandal-hit deputy. No wonder the Tories say they're...

Blew the Budget: Rachel Reeves

KEIR Starmer was struggling to contain turmoil in the Treasury last night as pressure mounted on Rachel Reeves and her deputy Tulip Siddiq.

As the pound took another

By Jason Groves, Claire Ellicott
and John-Paul Ford Rojas

battering on the financial markets, the Prime Minister was forced to throw a protective arm around his embattled Chancellor. Sir Keir said that, despite stuttering growth, surging government borrowing costs and a growing business backlash, Ms Reeves was doing a 'fantastic job' running the economy.

On a chaotic day, Downing Street took the highly unusual step of saying Ms Reeves was safe in her job until the next election – suggesting she will not be sacked however bad the economic crisis becomes.

No 10 was also forced to voice 'full

Corruption probe: Tulip Siddiq

confidence' in City minister Tulip Siddiq, who is facing growing pressure over corruption allegations which she disputes, but which are now being examined by the PM's sleaze investigator.

Former Tory finance minister Gareth Davies said Labour had 'two lame ducks' in the Treasury. 'Labour's

Turn to Page 4