

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2025

dailymail.co.uk

£1.10 85p to subscribers

SCAN TO SUBSCRIBE
AND SAVE

A tearjerker that's v.v. funny – and the best Bridget Jones since the original

FIRST REVIEW

Supping on the slopes: Meghan in Canada

Grinning Meghan's beer with Bublé

SEE PAGE NINE

LABOUR'S NEW BORDERS WATCHDOG WILL WFH... IN FINLAND!

Tories blast 'totally ludicrous' proposal by Government's choice for chief inspector

LABOUR'S choice for the next borders watchdog has hinted he plans to work part of the time from home in Finland.

John Tuckett, 73, was named last month as the Govern-

By David Barrett
Home Affairs Editor

ment's 'preferred candidate' for the role.

But in a confirmation hearing in front of MPs yesterday he revealed he is 'resident in Finland' and an advocate of working from home. As Independent Chief Inspector of Borders and Immigration, Mr Tuckett would be responsible for assessing the Government's performance in all areas of immigration, including work to tackle the small boats crisis.

The job comes with a salary of up

Turn to Page 2