Sheikh Hamdan Bin Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum, Crown Prince of Dubai, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Defence of the UAE, and Chairman of The Executive Council of Dubai, approved a plan to develop community services and facilities through 2040 with a budget of Dh9.59 billion. He also approved plans for the extension of the Dubai Metro to Al Maktoum International Airport City with a budget of Dh2 billion.

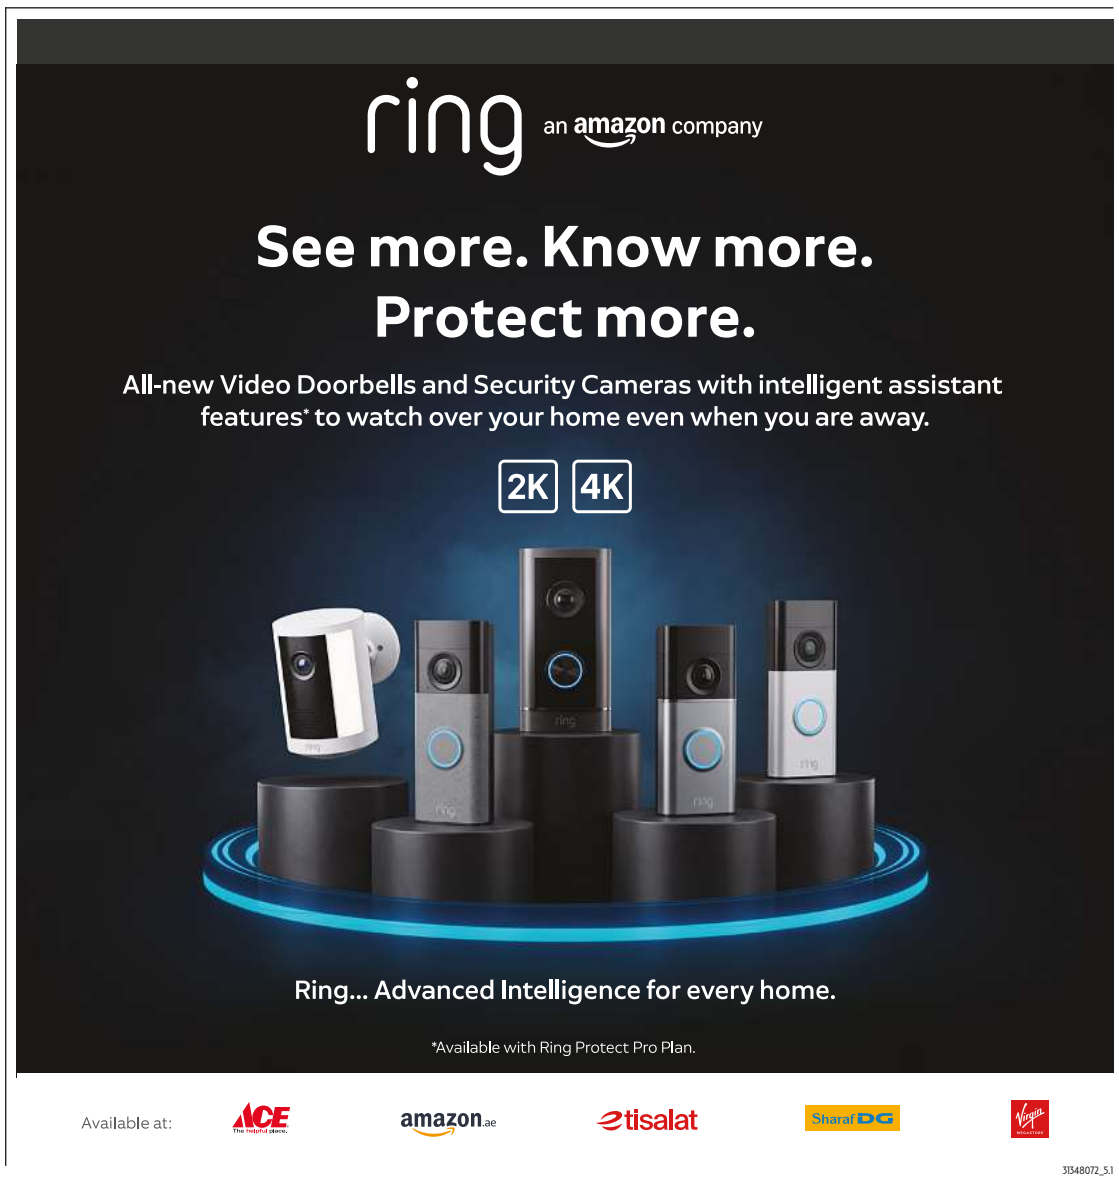

The Dubai Metro extension will give rise to a 3-kilometre route with two new stations, linking Route 2020 to Al Maktoum International Airport City. The project involves a collaboration between Dubai's Roads and Transport Authority (RTA) and the Dubai Engineering Projects Establishment. Services are scheduled to begin in 2031.

The extended route will connect to the West Terminal of Al Maktoum International Airport, linking with the airport express line and Etihad Rail's high-speed rail network. It will make travel easier for passengers, airport staff and visitors; improve traffic flow on surrounding roads, and ease access to urban centres across the emirate.

Developing public services

Alongside the Metro expansion, The Executive Council approved a comprehensive Dh9.59 billion plan to develop public services and community facilities across Dubai until 2040. The community services plan aims to ensure the efficient and equitable distribution of public services and facilities across existing and planned residential communities, meeting the needs of Dubai's citizens and residents as the city continues to develop.

The plan will be rolled out in phases, prioritising residential areas for citizens. It includes essential facilities for safety, security, health care, education and sports, alongside amenities for senior Emiratis and spaces for family and community activities, improving access to services, meeting the needs of all generations and strengthening family bonds and social cohesion.
