THE DOCTOR IN YOUR POCKET WILL SEE YOU NOW

But will ministers really be able to deliver the all-singing, all-dancing NHS app they are promising patients by 2028?

BRITONS will carry a 'doctor in their pocket' at all times under plans to revolutionise the NHS unveiled yesterday.

The NHS App will use AI and become the 'digital front door' of the health service under the proposals designed to ease pressure on hospitals and GPs. For the first time, it is claimed, patients will be able to book, move and cancel appointments through the app and receive personalised medical advice.

According to the Government's 10 Year Health Plan, published yesterday, the changes will help put an end to the '8am scramble' for a GP appointment and ensure everyone who needs a same-day consultation is able
